

My New Car

By Ian Kang

Age 9

When I grow up, I want to invent a safe car. I have two friends who have passed away because of a car accident. I am very sad so I have been crying many days and nights. I always think about inventing a new car that would prevent these accidents from happening.

The new car will be driven by machine, and when you want to go somewhere, you should just type in the address then the machine can drive you there. The machine is very safe and will not make any mistakes when it is on the road.

The new car can fly when there is a traffic jam. Some cars can fly 20 meters high; others can fly 30 meters high. I will build a car that can fly at different heights and will be put on the radar, so other cars will not crash into it.

The new car can also float on water. You won't need to rent or buy a boat while on the lake. The new car can drive under the water too, so you can watch sea animals swimming while sitting inside the car.

The new car can fly into outer space. If you want to go visit a planet, you can just type the planet's name and then your dream will come true.

If my new car can take care of all the transportation issues, the world will be wonderful with no accidents and injuries. I will work hard to build my new car.
