

The History of the Rainbows

By Dianne Ge

Age 7

Do you know who discovered that light and water would make rainbows? Here is the story.

A long time ago, God thought there had to be colors. So he made a special kind of water. When light touched the water, it made seven colors in a rainbow. The rainbow gave everyone all kinds of colors. Some people mixed the colors of the rainbow and it turned into pink, copper, orange-ish red, and peach. One day a monster and 999 zombies came to attack the colors. God and the villagers tried their best to defend their enemies and they won! But the people had forgotten by then how the rainbow was made. After a while a scientist discovered the rainbow was made from light and water and he told everyone. It was also on the news! Everyone on earth soon knew it! God was happy they liked it.