

What If You Were Invisible?

My Mom bought a silver bottle of invisible spray yesterday. At the time when all people were sleeping my Mom sprayed me with the bottle of invisible spray. In the morning I woke up and I checked the time. Oh no! I am late for the bus! I'll miss school!

I checked the mirror, I couldn't see myself. I froze I was invisible. I froze in terror. Then my Mom came up and told me breakfast is ready, but she didn't see me. Then she said: "hmmm, maybe he is not here." Then she left. Then I took and eat my breakfast. After that I pinched myself and checked the mirror I froze. Then I ate lunch. Then I played for 6 hours. Then I ate dinner. Late in the afternoon, I splashed myself with water and I was visible again!

Finally I was visible.